Old Business

None.

New Business

- a. Guest Speaker Kyle Morris, Public Works Supervisor

Kyle Morris, Public Works Supervisor for the City of Rosemount, welcomed the Commissioners and introduced himself, sharing insights into his role, responsibilities, and daily operations. He led a tour of the Public Works facilities, with a focus on snow removal operations. Highlights included an overview of the equipment—such as plow trucks, their cost and weight—a look at the large salt storage area, and an explanation of how the city produces its own brine for road treatment. Mr. Morris concluded the tour by offering winter driving safety tips to the students.

b. Leadership Workbook, Chapter 4; Building Confidence and Self-Esteem

Following the tour, the Commissioners turned their attention to Chapter 4 of their Leadership Workbook: Building Confidence and Self-Esteem. The discussion centered on the importance of self-esteem and how it influences respect, personal values, morals, and goal setting. Commissioners explored the power of positive self-talk and wrapped up the session with a fun and creative activity—coloring a sheet that celebrated their personal affirmations.

c. Roundtable Discussion

Youth Commissioners shared updates on their extracurricular involvement, including participation in the performing arts group Onstage, preparing college scholarship applications, and studying for upcoming finals. They also discussed the start of Speech season, their activities with DECA, and contributions to the Yearbook team.

Reports
